

SAN DIEGO STATE UNIVERSITY

The College of Arts and Letters, and
The Institute for Ethics and Public Affairs present

Imagining Europe

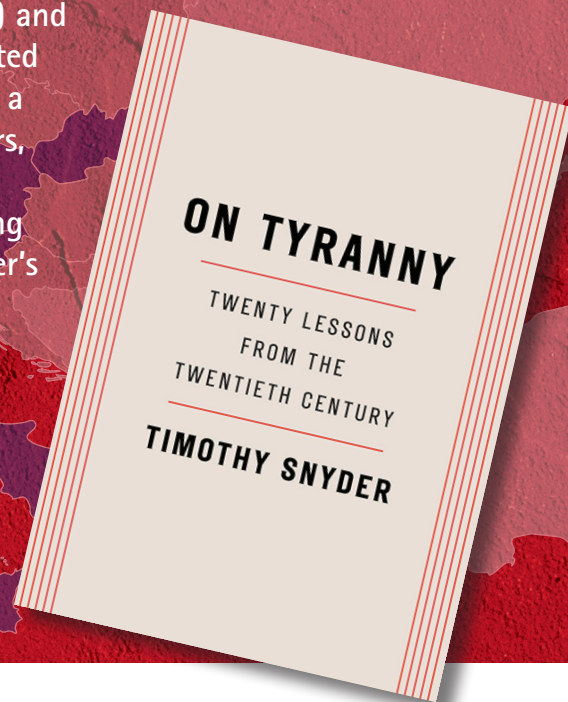

A talk by historian Timothy Snyder
Richard C. Levin Professor of History at Yale University about his book
On Tyranny: Twenty Lessons from the Twentieth Century

Monday, March 19, at noon
Conrad Prebys Aztec Student Union Theatre

Professor Snyder is an internationally renowned historian whose scholarship focuses on Europe and whose forthcoming book is The Road to Unfreedom: Russia, Europe, America. Among his many books are the acclaimed Bloodlands: Europe between Hitler and Stalin (2010) and Black Earth: The Holocaust as History and Warning (2015). Translated into 33 languages, Bloodlands has won twelve awards, including a Literature Award from the American Academy of Arts and Letters, and the Hannah Arendt Prize in Political Thought. The widely translated Black Earth has also received multiple honors, including an award from the Dutch Auschwitz Committee. Professor Snyder's most recent publication, On Tyranny: Twenty Lessons from the Twentieth Century (2017), offers a series of parables, at once chilling and inspiring, about the dangers facing countries across the globe where democratic ideals are imperiled.

This event is free and open to the public!

SAN DIEGO STATE
UNIVERSITY
Common Experience

Institute for Ethics and Public Affairs

Professor Snyder's lecture is part of this year's Common Experience program and has been sponsored by the College of Arts and Letters and the SDSU Institute for Ethics and Public Affairs. The organizers of Imagining Europe are also grateful for the support of European Studies, German Studies, Jewish Studies, and the Master of Arts in Liberal Arts and Sciences; and for the help of the SDSU Press, the Department of English and Comparative Literature, the Department of History, and the Department of Political Science. Lecture arranged courtesy of Adventures by the Book.